DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on May 23, 2006 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1 – 14 are allowed.

3. The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The closest prior art discloses a camera shake/movement compensation system, wherein a variable offset address, is obtained from motion sensing circuits, for determining the amount of camera shift from a mean position such that memory locations (for the image) are read out sequentially starting at a fixed address, thereby introducing a delay and hence an offset in the output data, wherein this offset is determined by the variable offset address and the camera shift. The newly introduced controllable offset is used to compensate for the offset introduced into the video picture signal by the shifted camera position. In effect, the display will show the scene without any offset (i.e., as if the camera were still at its mean position).

However, the closest prior art does not teach or fairly suggest detecting movement of the camera or rather a camera carrier as angular data by using an inertial sensor having a finite bandwidth, wherein the inertial sensor supplies the angular data with a time delay; delaying the image data by a time interval; and, correcting the delayed image data in accordance with the detected angular data such that unwanted movement influences of the camera carrier are eliminated from the images (i.e., the image is stabilized).

4. Any comments considered necessary by Applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
